DENVER (Col.) Aug. 3.—A pack of bloodhounds tonight was on the trail of a cattleman, collarless hold-up man, who last night shot and killed three members of a picnic party of four when they responded to a demand for money with the announcement that they were "broke."

Following a slender clue, centered about an unidentified motorist and a patch of tweed cloth, police authorities early tonight were unsuccessful in their efforts to find the man who slew Miss Marie McCormick, Mrs. Julia Stearns, her sister, Fred Finkner, and wounded Carl Perry, a fourth member of the party.

The bloodhounds were brought from Colorado Springs and taken to Littleton, Colo., where, under the direction of Sheriff Haines, of Arapahoe county, they were led to the fatal spot.

Sheriff Haines said he had discovered tracks, evidently those of the slayer, leading from the automobile and hoped there to pick up the trail.

Details of the tragedy were picked out by officers from the incoherent tale of the setting party, evidence about the automobile where the three bodies were found by occupants of a nearby house who were roused by the sole survivor.

Perry said the bandit leaped on the running board of the automobile as they drove along South Federal boulevard and forced them, at the point of a pistol, to drive to a secluded lane. There he demanded money from the four members of the party that they were "broke." He then opened fire with two revolvers, shooting the girls and Finkner through the head and wounding Perry in the arm.

When he realized that the other occupants of the machine were dead Perry ran for help, he said. "We never had a chance," he sobbed.

Police declared the slayer undoubtedly was the setting party bandit, who has made a specialty of holding up motorists parked in

TROUT EGGS ON LONG JOURNEY
Successful Plant Made in Creek of Grand Canyon
Train, Truck, Pack Horses, Rangers Carry Burden
Trip Across Painted Desert Proves Problem
(SPECIALS SERVICE)
GRAND CANYON (ARIZ.) AUG. 3.—From Yellowstone National Park by express to the south rim of the Grand Canyon National Park, a distance of 1200 miles; thence 250 miles by truck to the North Rim, and thence thirty-five miles by pack horse and one mile with pack rangers acting as pack-carriers, until finally planted in the waters of Shumino Creek in the bottom of the Grand Canyon, is the record of the journey of 50,000 trout eggs successfully planted a few days ago.
Unusual difficulties were overcome by rangers making the trip. It is necessary to keep the eggs packed in ice at all times. At 100 miles of the route by truck was across the Painted Desert of Arizona, requiring two days of travel, with no towns where ice could be secured, this phase of the problem caused considerable worry. However, two 150 pound cases were carefully wrapped in heavy canvas, and although the temperature reached 115 above in the shade during the trip, there was practically no loss from melting and three days later ice cream was frozen at the North Rim Ranger station with the surplus. If any motorist desires to carry ice during desert trips in the future this experience proves that if ice is wrapped in heavy canvas, a hundred pound case will serve the needs of the party for several days.
The trip by packhorse was over an old canyon trail that has not been used for years. Once during the trip the entire shipment and the horse packing it were nearly lost, a tree catching the horse after he had slipped and preventing a fall of several hundred feet. Before the creek was reached a slide blocking the trail was encountered, and it was necessary for the rangers to pack the heavy cases over the remaining distance themselves.
It is expected that in a few years, as travel in the canyon increases, and the old trail over which the fish were taken is brought up to the high standard of other canyon trails, that excellent trout fishing will be available in the creek. A similar plant was made in Bright Angel Creek last winter. The work is carried on by the National Park Service in co-operation with the United States Bureau of Fisheries.

Japan Leaders Turn Attention to Manchuria and Siberia in Grappling With Population Problem

By RODERICK MATHESON
(Copyright, 1925, by the Chicago Tribune.)
TOKIO, Aug. 3.—Realizing that America, Australia and Canada are closed against them and that Mexico and the South American lands can and will receive only a limited number of home seekers from Japan, officials and leaders have turned their attention to Manchuria and Siberia as the only possible outlets for the annually increasing surplus population.
It is not the idea that a stream of a half-million emigrants can be turned in the direction of the Asian mainland—although Manchuria can support an additional 30,000,000 of population and Siberia as many more—because it is realized that neither the Chinese nor Russian governments would permit such without war. But it is the idea of these Japanese new grasping with the population problem that Japan can develop industries and markets in these lands to support a Japan so highly industrialized as to be able to stand a great increase in population.

DENSELY POPULATED
Japan and her colonies as shown in the census of 1925 had then a population of 71,000,000. This will reach an estimated 80,000,000 this year. This gives a density of population as at all times. The country is equivalent to 393 in Great Britain and Ireland, 235 in China, thirty-five in the United States, twenty-two in Russia, three in Canada and one and one-half in Australia per square mile, while Japan is one-half mountain and lakes. The actual density of population per square mile of arable land in Japan exceeds 700, the greatest in the world.

In Hokkaido, the main northern island, where the climate is more severe than in North Dakota and snow lies on the ground for more than five months of the year, the population has grown through pressure in the southern main islands from 1,000,000 in 1900 to 3,500,000 this year, thus bellying the oft repeated statement that Japanese are refusing to colonize this island while crying for a chance to emigrate abroad. Another three years' surplus for this island while crying for a chance to emigrate abroad. Another three years' surplus for this island while crying for a chance to emigrate abroad.

AVAILABLE RICE AREA
In the empire, including Korea, there is an eventually available rice area capable of producing another 10,000,000 bushels of rice. This is the absolute limit, while the annual increase in population in the empire is between 100,000 and 200,000 persons, the average rice consumption of each one being five bushels. It requires small mathematical genius to figure out just when Japan will reach the point of hunger for rice. Japan proper, years since passed the point where she could supply her own food and the dependence on Korea, China, and Indo-China for her daily bread.

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The number of deaths caused by automobiles in fifty-seven American cities for which statistics are being currently collected by the Commerce Department totaled 415 during the four weeks ending July 18, last, compared with 417 in the previous four weeks ending June 18.

Among the cities where automobile fatalities showed an increase during the last four weeks was Pittsburgh, with twenty-five deaths.
MODESTO IRRIGATION PROTESTS OUTLINED
ATTY-GEN. SARGENT STARTS HEARING ON BAY CITY POWER FIGHT
(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Attorney General Sargent began the hearing today of a protest from officials of the Modesto Irrigation District against the putting into force of a contract between the city of San Francisco and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company by which the company would distribute the power generated at the city's hydroelectric plant at Hetch-Hetchy in the Yosemite National Park. While the Modesto officials contended that the contract is in violation of the Raker Irrigation Act prohibiting the city from disposing of the power to any private concern, it is understood that their chief concern is the protection of their water rights.
The hearing will be resumed tomorrow and at its conclusion the Attorney-General will take the whole subject under advisement. The matter was referred to him by the Interior Department for a legal opinion as to whether the terms of the contract between the city and the Pacific company violate the law.

PLAN TO SEAL CORN IN CRIBS THIS FALL
(SPECIALS SERVICE)
BOONE (Iowa), Aug. 3.—Sealing corn in cribs and stacking small grains are two methods grain growers of the Central West are planning to resort to this fall to avoid dumping their crops on the market immediately after harvest when prices are low. With a bumper corn crop in the making and a shortage of hogs and cattle, Iowa farmers may find it necessary to use extensively the provisions of the corn crib law in this State which makes it possible for them to get more for their crop before it is actually sold.

OPERATORS DEFY UNION IN MINE ROW

Committee Negotiating With Workers Will Not be Changed, is Edict

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—Samuel D. Warriner, one of the leaders of the anthracite coal operators, in a letter to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, made public tonight, said that the membership of the mine owners' sub-committee to negotiate with the miners, is fully authorized to speak for the industry and its personnel cannot be changed.
The letter is in reply to one written last week in which Mr. Lewis insisted that Mr. Warriner participate in the wage negotiations at Atlantic City. Mr. Lewis referred to the present makeup of the operators' sub-committee as a "jury of supermen."
Mr. Warriner, in his reply, repeated the offer of the operators to agree to no suspension when the present wage contract expires the 31st inst., to arbitrate matters not agreed to at that time.
Mr. Warriner further said that if the miners mean to break off negotiations if the personnel of the committee is not changed, Mr. Lewis is "assuming a grave responsibility."

Broker License Law Appeal for Supreme Court
(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—The United States Supreme Court will be asked to rule on the constitutionality of the California law requiring all real estate brokers and operators to obtain licenses, enacted by the 1919 Legislature.
The validity of the law was attacked by H. C. Haas, a real estate broker, and today granted leave to appeal to the Supreme Court. Before the deal was closed, Greenwald decided not to buy the property. Haas and Stevens had licensed, but Johnson did not. Haas sued to collect a commission, and carried the case to the State Supreme Court.
The State Supreme Court upheld the Superior Court's decision against Haas and today granted Haas's petition for a writ of error as a preliminary to appealing the case to the United States Supreme Court.

Clegg, a number of names of women as well as women have been submitted to President Coolidge, but there was no indication as to whether he had narrowed the field down to a probable choice.
Selection of a woman would be in line with the announced policy of the President to recognize women for positions as high in the government service as they already have held.

TEACHER'S DEATH MYSTERY

Cultured Scholar Found in Well on Illinois Farm; Threatening Letters Investigated

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MATTOON (Ill.) Aug. 3.—In the death of Miss Cora Stallman, 48 years of age, on the $150,000 country estate of her sister, Mrs. Anna Seaman, Coles county authorities have a perplexing mystery. Miss Stallman, cultured, the winner of University scholarships in mathematics and Greek, formerly a school principal in Cincinnati, O., was found dead at the bottom of a ten-foot well on her sister's farm at 8 o'clock Saturday morning.
How the woman died and why
are questions the authorities have
for more than forty-eight hours
been striving to answer.
SITTING IN WATER
The body of the woman was found in a sitting position in three feet of water, but Coroner F. E.
Schilling says he is positive she was not drowned.
Superficial examination of her
vital organs by two physicians
would indicate that she had not been poisoned. Her viscera may be sent to Dr. W. D. McNally in the Cook county laboratory.
State's Attorney Charles H.
Fletcher said: "I thought at first that it was suicide. That was on a hasty glance at the facts. There are some extremely strange circumstances in this case. I'm not so sure one way or another now."
And the question of suicide or murder again brought the State's Attorney face to face with other questions.
If Miss Stallman killed herself
why did she crawl to the bottom of the well to do it? She was not drowned; she must have taken poison. But the well was drained
for a container and there was nothing on the concrete bottom.
FIND THREAT LETTERS
If the talented woman was murdered,
who did it and what was the motive? Highly important so far in the inquiry are some thirty-
odd scrawled and printed letters,
most of them attacking Miss Stallman
in some way, which have been sent variously to the woman
herself to her sister and to Boss
Lilly, a tenant farmer on the sister's
big farm, living a half-mile away.
These point vaguely to an an-

And Hudson economy, which the praise of a vast ownership has made famous, consists not only in the important first cost savings, but also in the way Hudsons retain their new car qualities and performance in long service with little need for mechanical attention.

MAN HUNT ON IN KINGS COUNTY

Citizens Aroused by Series of Home Burglaries

Woman Gagged, Child Beaten to Force Silence

Robber Steals Two Cars in Making Escape

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) RANFORD, Aug. 3.—Efforts of the sheriff's office, police and constabulary have been enlisted in an effort to run down the lone housebreaker who has been engaged in a series of burglaries in Lenoora, ten miles west of this city, which culminated last Saturday night or early Sunday morning in a man hunt on the ringing of the firebell, in which 200 persons participated.

Following several burglaries or attempts at burglary with small loot, during the preceding week, late Saturday night, a man was effected to the house of Herman Rentsch. The burglar threatened Mrs. Rentsch with violence if she made an outcry and gagged her. She managed to get the burglar from her mouth and called to her husband, who was sleeping on the porch thirty feet away. Rentsch secured a revolver and later saw a man prowling in the vicinity of the house and fired two shots at him. The man fled.

The same night the house of R. Rebol, Charles Stockdale, Wilbur Stevens, Miss Minnie Phillips and A. D. Campbell were entered. At the Phillips place, Miss Phillips was choked and told not to make a noise while the intruder escaped. At the home of Banker A. D. Campbell, the thief was evidently frightened away by the return of the family and only secured a silk shirt.

About 3:30 Sunday morning the residence of a Japanese family on Bush street was broken into and a little girl of the family, 15 years of age, started to make an outcry when she was struck over the head with a club. The alarm given by the Japanese family called the local police officers, Constable John Dixon and City Marshal Dickenson, to the premises. The fire bell was sounded and a man hunt started without delay. The burglar was captured at the home of the Japanese family. The assistance of the sheriff's office was sought and Undersheriff Walker, Constable Dixon and City Marshal Brown of Hanford were enlisted.

It was ascertained that last night the place of W. R. Winger, two and a half miles south of Lenoora, was robbed of some small personal effects and that the R. F. Carroll home, a mile distant, an automobile was stolen, which was found some distance off the road, where it had evidently run out of gas and been abandoned. Another car was stolen in the neighborhood, with which the thief evidently made his way to Hanford. The theft of the automobile is attributed by the officers to the same party who committed the burglaries at Lenoora. No arrest has been made.

ONTARIO BURGLARS GET ONLY PIN MONEY

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE) ONTARIO, Aug. 3.—Daylight burglars who entered the home of George A. McGraw, president of the Ontario National Bank, 663 North Euclid avenue, during the absence of members of the household, secured only $2.85 for their trouble, according to report to the police today. After failing to gain entrance by forcing bolts around the lock on the French door at the rear, the burglars tore the screen from a window and entered the house of jimmy. Members of the family were absent at the beach at the time of the robbery and the theft of the jewelry, a maid, was away from the house the major portion of the day.

The lock on a desk belonging to the banker was broken, but apparently nothing was taken from within. Solid silverware and other valuable articles were passed up by the thieves. The $2.85 belonged to Mrs. Patrick, who was taken from a dresser drawer in her room on the second floor.

FREDERICKS WORKS FOR INGLEWOOD PARK

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE) INGLEWOOD, Aug. 3.—A conference with Congressman John D. Fredericks relative to the steps necessary to secure for Inglewood as a municipal park the ten acres recently vacated by the government as a United States Naval radio station has resulted in his promise to do everything possible to secure this land for Inglewood. It was reported last night by Earl W. Porter, secretary of the chamber, at a meeting of the directorate, Congressman Fredericks was taken from a meeting of the directorate, Congressman Fredericks was taken from a meeting of the directorate, Congressman Fredericks was taken from a meeting of the directorate.

PASADENA ATHLETIC CLUBHOUSE BEGUN

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent PASADENA, Aug. 3.—Twelve officials of the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club, participated in the ground-breaking exercises for the club's new $250,000 building, this afternoon. The first shovelful of dirt was turned by Frank F. Carpenter, vice-president of the organization. According to the organizers who began the work this afternoon the new building will stand completed in eight months' time. It is being erected on the corner of South Los Robles avenue and Green street. Membership of this organization is made up of Pasadena's most prominent business men and women, and lovers of sport.

PLACENTIA ODOR TO BE MOVED ON

Controversy Over Parking of Fertilizer Cars Assured of Settlement

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA ANA, Aug. 3.—Amicable settlement of the controversy between Placentia citizens and the Santa Fe Railroad over the asserted practice of the railroad in storing cars of fertilizer on sidings in the city business and residential district was today announced as assured. Placentia people assert the cars give off a foul odor.

Court proceedings brought by the citizens through the District Attorney's office to abate a public nuisance are being held in abeyance because of the pending settlement, according to J. M. Atty. Nelson, who said the railroad company has promised to change its practice.

Attorneys for the railroad recently presented a motion in Superior Judge West's court for the removal of the case to the Federal Court in Los Angeles, but this motion has been marked off the court calendar for two weeks.

Nelson explained that this action was due to the prospect of friendly settlement of the case.

Placentia officials, he said, have given assurance that the situation at Placentia will be eliminated.

Such a settlement, it is said, will mark a victory for the people of Placentia, who have been protesting for more than a year over the nuisance.

The same night the house of R. Rebol, Charles Stockdale, Wilbur Stevens, Miss Minnie Phillips and A. D. Campbell were entered.

At the Phillips place, Miss Phillips was choked and told not to make a noise while the intruder escaped.

At the home of Banker A. D. Campbell, the thief was evidently frightened away by the return of the family and only secured a silk shirt.

About 3:30 Sunday morning the residence of a Japanese family on Bush street was broken into and a little girl of the family, 15 years of age, started to make an outcry when she was struck over the head with a club.

The alarm given by the Japanese family called the local police officers, Constable John Dixon and City Marshal Dickenson, to the premises.

The fire bell was sounded and a man hunt started without delay.

The burglar was captured at the home of the Japanese family.

The assistance of the sheriff's office was sought and Undersheriff Walker, Constable Dixon and City Marshal Brown of Hanford were enlisted.

It was ascertained that last night the place of W. R. Winger, two and a half miles south of Lenoora, was robbed of some small personal effects and that the R. F. Carroll home, a mile distant, an automobile was stolen, which was found some distance off the road, where it had evidently run out of gas and been abandoned.

Another car was stolen in the neighborhood, with which the thief evidently made his way to Hanford.

The theft of the automobile is attributed by the officers to the same party who committed the burglaries at Lenoora.

No arrest has been made.

The lock on a desk belonging to the banker was broken, but apparently nothing was taken from within.

Solid silverware and other valuable articles were passed up by the thieves.

The $2.85 belonged to Mrs. Patrick, who was taken from a dresser drawer in her room on the second floor.

MYSTERY RECALL MOVE

Enemies of Manager Windham of Long Beach Reported Starting Action Against Him

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 3.—Forces said to be at work here to stage an attempted recall of City Manager Windham were still working in the dark today, so far as any formal action was concerned. First indication that enemies of the City Manager were contemplating such a move was seen Saturday when more than a dozen men appeared at the City Clerk's office and sought to sign a petition which they explained, they had given to understand was on file there seeking a special election for the City Manager's recall.

Efforts were being made today to learn the identity of the leaders behind the alleged recall movement. Myrtle L. Gussell, City Auditor, and others declared they knew nothing of the petition or the identity of those behind it. There is no legitimate ground for the recall here by a public initiative, they said. Should the petition be signed, they said, the City Manager would succeed in getting a sufficient number of signatures for a recall petition. The recall will be beaten down at the special election by the largest vote of the City Manager's friends, they said. A municipal official in any American city, friends declared.

Under present arrangements governing the conduct of the Long Beach department no complaints nor papers may be filed here. It was said, however, that in probability arrangements will be made by the presiding judge of the court for duplicate records of cases in order to make possible the filing of complaints with the board of appeals.

Attaches of the new department are E. L. Girard, clerk; L. W. McDermott, bailiff; and B. E. McDonald, reporter.

Salaries of attaches in three departments of the court are affected by the action of the County Auditor.

This move may bring a legal decision that is expected to clear up several questions concerning the status of the new court and its judges, attorneys said.

JUSTICES' SALARIES REFUSED

County Auditor Holds Up Pay of Beach City Judges; Case Will Test Court Status

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 3.—Judge Fred H. Helwig and W. S. Brayton, two of the jurists presiding in departments of the newly created Municipal Court of Long Beach were refused salary warrants for their services as municipal judges for the week of July 24 to July 31, 1925, by the County Auditor this morning. Action of the Auditor was based on advice of County Counsel Bishop, it was said. Steps to make mandatory proceedings to compel the county to pay the salaries of the two judges were immediately taken by Judge Helwig and Brayton, and word sent here from Los Angeles. Both judges, it has been pointed out, are not judges of the Municipal Court, but are judges of the Superior Court, having been admitted to the State bar for the necessary five years.

The technical reason behind the refusal of county authorities to pay their salaries, however, is based on the issue whether or not the Municipal Court was properly organized and was actually functioning such during the week in question.

GAINS REPORTED IN COTTON CROP

Texas and Oklahoma Rains Held Beneficial

Ample August Fall Needed for Best Results

Picking Under Way Early in Several Sections

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Aug. 3.—Reports of the average on July 29 indicate that the cotton crop has held its own or improved in most sections since July 16.

There was deterioration in Oklahoma during most of the period, but this was arrested by rainfall about general over the entire State and in no section of the State was the crop so far gone as to have been unresponsive to the more favorable turn of the weather. Further rains through August will be necessary to hold the present prospect.

South and South Central Texas are still without relief, although the drought area of the State has been considerably reduced. Elsewhere than in south and south central parts the condition of cotton is fair to good, and locally excellent; some moisture retarded progress even in the more favored sections.

The central belt continues to make good progress under weather conditions mostly favorable.

CAROLINA CROP

The crop in the Carolinas and Georgia is doing very well except over Piedmont sections of these States, where drought is quite general and severe. Western sections of North Carolina have experienced one of the worst droughts in several years.

Stands in South Carolina are somewhat spotted, especially in dry sections. Over the coastal plain they compare favorably with the unusually good stands that are the rule throughout the remainder of the belt.

Soil weevils are doing little damage even in South Carolina, where they appeared to be most threatening. In the first half-year of the infestation is confined to spots. Heavy damage is reported in some sections in South Georgia, with considerable damage locally. Elsewhere, except in southern Alabama, soil weevils are few and damage negligible.

An outbreak of army worms has been reported recently from government sources, but the Commercial Appeal correspondents indicate that little harm is felt so far.

Shedding is reported by nearly every correspondent, but only a few indicate that it has been excessive, except in some cases in South Carolina and Georgia, where it was due to rust.

The plant, except in drought areas, is blooming freely and fruiting well. Picking is a progress in many sections. Florida, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas all report good or more new bales and in nearly every instance from two to three weeks early.

Ample rainfall in August is needed for best results, but with the exception of the Piedmont section of Georgia and the Carolinas and Central and South Texas, the belt is fairly well supplied with moisture for immediate requirements.

OFFER ISSUE OF UTILITY MORTGAGES

Monongahela Company

Has Shown Enormous Growth in Past Eight Years

One of the largest domestic public utility issues in recent weeks, $12,500,000 Monongahela West Penn Public Service Company first lien and refunding mortgage 5% per cent bonds, will be offered today by a syndicate headed by Halcyon, Stuart & Co., and W. C. Langley & Co., and including E. H. Rollins & Co., Hamilton & Co., W. A. Harrison & Co., and Dominick & Dominick, at 98, to yield about 3.65 per cent.

The bonds are series "B" under the mortgage dated February 1, 1925, and will mature February 1, 1935. They are secured by a first mortgage on an important electrical property, by pledge of mortgage bonds, due in 1943, by mortgage on the remainder of the company's property, subject to outstanding dividend bonds and by pledge of $673,000 subsidiary company bonds.

Proceeds of the issue will be used to retire the company's series "A" bonds, called for redemption the 1st inst., and to reimburse the company for expenditures made in the recent acquisition of properties, for renewals and for other corporate purposes.

The company has grown rapidly, electric consumers alone having increased 529 per cent in the period from 1917 to March 31, 1925. Gross earnings, including other income, for the twelve months ended March 31, last, were $6,978,450.

After deducting before reserves and other items, the company's net earnings before interest requirements on the total funded indebtedness now outstanding with the public, including this issue, amounts to $1,224,220.

The territory served with electric light and power at wholesale or retail by the company and its subsidiary, Kanawha Traction and Electric Company, includes such cities as Fairmont, Morgantown, Wheeling, Parkersburg, W. Va., and Marietta, O. Electric light and power properties of the company and its subsidiary include generating stations with more than 40,000 kilowatt installed capacity and over 525 miles of high-tension transmission line. It also supplies city and suburban railway service to a number of important cities as well as natural gas in Fairmont and vicinity.

NEGROES IN CAMP

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Aug. 3.—About seventy-five negro civilians were gathered at Camp Harry J. Jones for a two-months' course of military instruction. Most of them are college and high-school students from Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. They are messaged as a part of Company C, Twenty-fifth Infantry.

Wall Street Paragraphs

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Whatever the basic reason the fact remained that the stock market today surged forward in a broad movement in which strength was the dominant factor. Sentiment as made known from the stock exchange, was somewhat fixed, but this applied merely to the floor traders, who oftentimes in the past had proved themselves woefully wrong in their market prognostications. That the short interest furnished no small part of the incentive to rush up prices, was conceded, and the results were especially noticeable among the costly industrials. As for the bulls, they were allowed to lapse into a period of inertia, doubtless due to the fact that most of the roads had reported for June and the half year.

MONEY RATES STIFFEN

The renewal cost of call money was stiffer and before the session ended rates further advanced. This was largely in the nature of reflecting Saturday's bank statement, some unsatisfactory features of which easily were attributable to end of the month demands. At all events there were no signs attributable to market analysts that a higher rediscount rate was imminent.

RUNNING TO FORM

At least sixteen times a year United States Steel common may be counted on for market display. This being called to mind by the currency of guesses as to what prospecting tonnage statement, monthly occurrence, the rise and fall of unfilled tonnage of the big corporation's books had been giving the street a periodical thrill for years and today, with a recurrence of guesses as to what would be shown when in exactness a week, the amount of business on hand would be indicated, was a case in point. Equally important and furnishing the market markers with incentive for participation in the game of speculation and dividend meetings had supplied the remaining "stated" bases for action. That next Monday's showing would not exceed 300,000 tons in the matter of depletion was a rather general prediction, while in more optimistic circles the guesses narrowed down to falling off of no more than 100,000 tons.

RECORDING STRIDES

Having been forewarned of what had been earned by General Motors in the first half-year of the street, in consideration of the official report for the period, was inclined to pay more attention to a study of the balance-sheet revelations. Thus the heavy increase in net sales over a year ago and a reflection in a much stronger treasury position, not the least interesting part of which was an increase in cash within six months from $18,000,000 to $118,000,000, the purchase of $10,000,000 in Treasury certificates and government bonds, a $3,000,000 gain in sight drafts and cash, and $10,000,000 increase in receivables and other assets of the company, were of considerable interest. The DuPont company, just justified in marking up its investment from $43 to $75 a share. Should General Motors acquire the minority stock of Fisher Body, no longer concentrated to any appreciable extent, it would further round out that corporation's position in the automobile industry and immediately make available for its own purposes the entire profits of the body company.

HUMID MARKET ACTION

It looked as though shorts in General Electric were being forced to cover at least a portion of their outstanding contracts, as the stock once more crossed $390 a share for the first time in months. Realization that the expansion of public utilities spelled big business for the manufacturers of electrical equipment had made many firms in the industry. Incidentally the hope was revived that sooner or later the management might take such steps as might be necessary to popularize the shares, although there were no present signs that the matter even was being considered by the board either individually or as a body.

TOBACCO GOSSIP UP

The affairs of American Tobacco, tobacco cropped out in discussion, and developments of importance were visualized for the coming fall. That a controlling interest in the preferred stock had been acquired some time ago was known to relatively few in the street and the plans of the new owners were permitted to materialize. It was indicated that these shares will be retained. But before such a step could be taken, it was pointed out a certain course of action would first have to be followed and the way paved for retiring the senior stock issues.

WET BLANKET

Much of the starch had been removed from the ardor of enthusiasts on the petroleum group at a resumption of prices cut in western gasoline schedules, and today the impression gained ground that the eastern territory readily might be the scene of similar tactics. Any motorist could bear witness to the wide range of prices encountered on the road along the Atlantic seaboard, and not all of it could be attributed to gasoline of the bootleg variety. Continued heavy shipments of Pacific Coast gasoline for eastern consumption were pointed to as a factor which could not well be overlooked.

His Conscience Troubled Him

"I know I have done wrong, please forgive me for not doing my duty and writing you before. I am thankful to God and the good remedy He gave you, and would not take $500 for the good the first dose gave me. I have been bothered for many years with gas in my stomach and indigestion, but since taking May's Wonderful Cure it is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince you of its value. At all druggists. (Advertisement.)

Joan Can and, in its attainment, the covering of shorts had an important role. The market position of this industrial was all that could be desired, it was contended, for the constructive element in the shares, and determination to see through a strong program, was the credit given the clique which for months had successfully advanced the stock to among the highest priced in the stock exchange list. The main thought continued to be that action ultimately would be taken by the Can board which would increase the number of shares through elimination of the pres-

Moody Sees Present as Desirable to Continue Holding of Euler

Moody's Weekly Review of Financial Conditions, in its current issue, says in part: Stock prices are forging steadily ahead, while bond prices are moving horizontally. Thus far bonds recorded their highest May 23, and yet they have remained in such a strong statistical position that one could not recommend selling. Neither has it paid to sell, because there has been no better use for the funds.

Share prices are now responding to improved earnings and public enthusiasm and are rising higher and higher above parity with the bond market. In other words, stock prices are higher than usual as compared with bond prices.

It should pay to continue holding both bonds and stocks, however, at least for the time being. To the typical investor there is still no better way to employ funds than to leave them in bonds; and to the typical shareholder there is no very good reason for selling until the economic situation turns bearish.

BANK CLEARINGS IN BAY DISTRICT GAIN

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SANTA MONICA, Aug. 3.—The Santa Monica Bay district bank clearances last month broke all records since March, 1924, according to the announcement of the Santa Monica Bay District Clearinghouse Association, which reports that the clearances for July were $9,831,135.30. This is nearly $500,000 more than the clearances of July, 1924, and a safe margin over any other month this year. July's bank clearances exceed the June clearances this year by more than $1,000,000.

The GLENDORA CONSOLIDATED MUTUAL IRRIGATING COMPANY is a California Corporation organized in 1920 as a consolidation of two old established water companies, viz., Glendora Irrigation Company and the Glendora Mutual Water Company. The company supplies irrigating water to about 2,200 acres of valuable citrus fruit orchards in and around the city of Glendora, California, located about 25 miles east of Los Angeles.

These bonds are a part of a total issue of $500,000, of which $85,000 have been retired, leaving $435,000 outstanding, constituting a closed first mortgage on the entire plants, lands, buildings, wells, water, water rights, rights-of-way and all other properties of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired, at present valued in excess of $1,000,000. In addition to these values the acreage served by the Company and owned by its stockholders, valued at over $5,000,000, by virtue of being dependent upon the Company for its water supply potentially constitutes additional security for these bonds.

Investment

Not only does it cost more, day by day, to pay men and buy materials supply gas to the public, but the means in cost has covered a period of years so that the amount money invested to supply a customer has also increased. There are ago an investment of one hundred dollars, on the average, is sufficient to take care of the equipment for a gas customer. To pay the average investment for each customer amounts to approximately one hundred and fifty dollars. This means capital investment in useful and used property.

This increased investment is fundamental to the cost of gas service, and is one of the underlying reasons for the application of the Southern California Gas Company to the State Railroad Commission for a revision of gas rates in Los Angeles.

A Leader

"To build a business that will never know completion—but that will advance continually to meet advancing conditions."—From Bullock's "Ideal."

Bullock's is constantly forging ahead. It is now second in America—among department stores—in the use of Class 2000 National Cash Registers for speed, economy, accuracy and service.

Only Marshall Field's has more.

COURT GETS
OUSTER SUIT
IN KLAN WAR

Judge Takes Case Under
Advisement in Long Beach
Lease Fight

The suit of the Independent Klan of America to oust Long Beach Klan No. 11, Ku Klux Klan, Realm of California, from possession of an assembly hall at 1630 East Anaheim street, in the beach city, was taken under advisement yesterday by Judge Shaw of the Superior Court on the Board of Supervisors.

The Klan factional war was brought into court several weeks ago when Klan No. 11 brought ouster proceedings against the Independent Klan. This petition for an injunction against the Independent Klan was denied by Judge Shaw. Members of Klan No. 11 were asserted then to have seized the assembly hall by force and the Independent Klan countered with an injunction suit to oust Klan No. 11.

Members of the Independent Klan contended they had leased the hall from Klan No. 11 last June and that Klan No. 11 then voted to disband. Those who appeared as representatives of Klan No. 11 argued that any action taken to disband the Klan was not in accordance with the by-laws of the Ku Klux Klan and was instigated by a "small handful" of secessionists from the organization.

Hickman Quits

Biltmore Head

Art Hickman, leader of the Biltmore Orchestra, announced his resignation as assistant manager in charge of entertainments at the Biltmore yesterday.

Mr. Hickman, who has been orchestra leader at the Biltmore since it opened in 1923, will continue to make his headquarters at the Biltmore and will devote himself exclusively to his musical work after September 15, when his resignation takes effect.

He will maintain his musical organization, which will continue to give concerts at the Biltmore and will devote himself exclusively to his musical work after September 15, when his resignation takes effect.

Wife Searches

Believed Slain

Mrs. Anna Czech of 445 Almond avenue, Long Beach, is seeking information which will lead her to her husband, Michael Czech, 60 years of age, who vanished more than a week ago under circumstances tending to the belief that he may have been slain.

The missing man left a note for his wife, in which he stated he was going to Los Angeles to buy some radio parts and that he would be back within a few hours. He never returned, and Mrs. Czech has become convinced that he has been the victim of an accident or bandits. She stated that he had never before left her for any length of time.

He was described as 5 feet 11 inches in height, weighing 225 pounds, with blue eyes and blond hair, shot through with gray at the temples.

TEETH AMONG
SEA DWELLERS

Young oysters, we are told, settle down to work after forty-eight hours of making a splash in their world. Some become pearl manufacturers, and others just hang around the bars—plain old soaks. Starfish sometimes visit oyster communities and work the old shell game. Well, the oysters have made their beds—let them lie in them.

And there are the limpets. They prowl around at night, but always in the morning they manage to find their own flats on the old home rock, and so save their faces in the eyes of the community. Ah, those sly, frolicking limpets.

And what armories of teeth—whelks have from 220 and 250 each, winkles 3500 and the umbrella shells about 750,000 to the set. What a time there must be when the little umbrella shells are feeding. Whelks, mon!—[Nation's Business.]

Turned Laugh on the Judge

An Irish witness was being examined. "Did you see the shot fired?" the magistrate asked. "No, sorr, I only heard it." "The evidence is not satisfactory," replied the magistrate sternly. "stand down!" The witness turned to leave and directly his back was turned he laughed derisively. Indignant at this contempt of court, the magistrate called him back and asked how he dared to laugh in court. "Did you see me laugh, your honor?" queried the offender. "No, sir, but I heard you," was the irate reply. "That evidence is

BUSINESS WITH A TANG

A London man has trained a chimpanzee
to run a fruit stand. This is monkey business, indeed.

SINKING FUND, TOO

Any man who has four children who
line up like stair steps knows what a graduated income tax is.

DEEP IDEAS

Thought is a good deal like coffee. It must have good grounds, but to suit persons
of taste it must percolate, not just boil over.

STRIKING DECLARATION

The coal business is full of declamation. The miners are always declaring something. And then usually it's a case of mine, mine, mine.

THE HUNTERS

It is now fashionable to hunt big game with the bow and arrow. If father is brought home with a pheasant the explanation may come from this fact.

SHORT SKIRTS

Some people imagine that in these days
of mechanical toys comparatively few doll
dresses are made, but, on the contrary,
more are sold now than ever before.
Only now the grown women are wearing 'em.

CRITICS OF CRIME

If the crusade against crime becomes national in extent it may be possible to persuade the political parties in their next
platforms to adopt resolutions denouncing burglary. Even the highwayman will have no friends. But will the politicians indicate enough virtue to part company with the bootleggers?

HIGHER PRAGMATISM

The "physical" progress of America
has obscured spiritual phases, a Hindu visitor tells us. That's just another way of telling us we've made too much money
for our own good. Nearly all intellectual foreigners who visit us think that. And that's why they visit us in hope of relieving
us of some of it.

SOME QUESTION

Doubtless it would be easy to raise the funds for the establishment of a Bryan university, but if the institution is to specialize in warfare against evolution, how long will it endure? A college that is built on the principle of a spite fence cannot be wholly commended. The country is fairly well col-leged as it is and any institution dedicated to negation and controversy is hardly worth while.

THE JUNKERS

The Attorney-General gives opinion
that the Shipping Board can sell its whole fleet of vessels to Henry Ford if it wants to.
The government experts have decided that the nation has no proper use for more than 500 of the ships now on hand and if the administration can get anything out of them so much the better. If Henry Ford wishes to extract their engines and set
them in his road rabbits it will be all right
with the board.

MAYBE SO, BUT—

The chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations has just returned from an extensive survey of conditions in Europe. He reports to President Coolidge
his belief that there is not a nation across the Atlantic that is not able to face its obligations to America. They may not be prepared to pay their debts in cash, but he insists that they will all be ultimately competent to make just settlements. This view
should be flattering to the governments
concerned, but will it impel them to step up to the cashier's window?

MUSIC IN PRISON

A dispatch tells that hereafter the prisoners at San Quentin will have music with their meals. Among the inmates are numbers of performers upon various instruments and it is no trouble at all to form an orchestra of sixteen pieces. They are prepared to tackle the whole field of harmony
from the latest jazz offering up to a Beethoven concerto. The dwellers within the walls respond to its influence to a more or less degree. They like established melodies. They may eat their soup to strains of jazz, but they prefer Charlie Foster's
stuff with their coffee.

CALL OUT CAPITAL

The new program of the administration leaders is said to include a graduated
and scientific reduction of the income taxes
so that the maximum tax in any division shall not exceed 30 per cent. Some of the treasury experts predict that a substantial reduction of this kind will bring in nearly as much money as is now provided. The excessive rates on big incomes have caused
many investors to place their whole portfolios in nonassessable securities and thus great sums are diverted from the natural channels of business. If the tax ceases to be mercenary and punitive the money will once more be paraded in the open.

MEMORY ASSASSINS

Before the remains of the late William Jennings Bryan had reached their final resting place men were rushing into print
in different parts of the country putting words into the dead man's mouth. At least four were prepared to tell all about the impudent of Bryan's resignation from President Wilson's Cabinet in 1915. They claimed to have received the information
from one or the other of the two principals
during his lifetime and did not feel at liberty to speak until their informant was dead.

Putting words into a dead man's mouth
is, at best, a scurrily practice. Neither Wilson nor Bryan left any written record as to an "overt incident" which caused Bryan's retirement. Each was apparently desirous that the veil of secrecy should not be lifted.
As both were honorable men it is fair to suppose that it related to some of the secret
diplomacy of the critical period before our country actually entered the war.

Neither sought any public justification of his part in the affair. Both were content to remain silent and let the speculators speculate to their hearts' content. But the speculators were silent while either of the principals was alive. It is possible that Milton A. Miller may feel that the death of Bryan released his promise of secrecy and that the information he is giving is valuable for historic record. But history written on such evidence cannot be distinguished by the lay mind from the wildest fiction. History worthy the name is based on facts, on something more than conversations repeated several years after the words were uttered.

What Wilson and Bryan alike felt it public policy to conceal will never now be debated. The best one can say of any of these alleged "revelations" is "perhaps."
The incident illustrates a prevailing habit that is alike unethical and unjust. He who puts words into lips stilled by death, especially words of a controversial nature, performs a kind of desecration. The dead man cannot defend himself. He cannot explain;
and those who commit such acts often reserve the epithet "memory assassins."
They attack something the possessor can no longer defend.

There are instances where one does not care for his good deeds to be known during his lifetime and where the disclosure after his death can harm no one. But to accuse one dead President of an unethical action on the alleged words of another who is also
dead: such a disclosure does not come under this category.

LOSING HIS GRIP

Dad is losing his long-retained grip as the head of the family, which is becoming a democracy in which each member of the household is to have a voice in the conduct of affairs. So Dr. Karl Schwelb, director of the Family Welfare Agency of Philadelphia, told the City Club of Los Angeles the other day, and there is evidence available indicating that he may be right. The only danger is household anarchy.

Thus is shattered a tradition which runs
back to the cave-dwelling families of the Paleolithic Age. But the democratic idea is going to be hard to establish in all households. In many an American home where Dad has had to drop the scepter it has been picked up by the daughter of the house,
who loves to order things in her own sweet
way; and if Father and Mother can't sleep
because of clamorous fenders, parties or vociferous fox-trotting, why, they don't sleep, that's all. For when Sister says,
"Roll up the rug," they are rolled up, and
the clatter of feet, the clapping of hands
and the clash of the jazz machines rend
the air.

Here and there a household is dominated by a square-jawed Buddee who has learned
so well how to run the family car that he is extending his driving activities to the household. As for Dad, this young icono-clast confesses that he isn't "sold on that
bird," and freely opines that "he's a back
number, anyway."

Then again there is found a family in which the mother tells the rest of the household just where to head in, and sees
to it that they go the appointed way.
In any of these latter cases—and they are by no means uncommon—Dad probably would be glad if the rule of democracy were to be set up in his family, for then he might have a vote. He would cheerfully subscribe to the idea set forth by Dr. Schwelb that in such a democracy, if it is to be a successful government, "it will be necessary
for each member of the family to contribute his or her share to the general welfare of the family group."

SAVE THE SEALS

Feeling sealings, or the killing of seals
in open water, will begin again on a whole-
scale scale unless the agreement made in 1911 by the United States, Great Britain,
Russia and Japan is renewed next year.
This agreement, made in 1911, was for five-
teen years, and it is hoped that it will be extended for twenty-five more. The Pan-
Pacific Food Conference, held in Honolulu, advocated a new agreement, but with a wider scope. It adopted a resolution asking that the nations bordering on the Pacific appoint a commission to take steps for "the restoration, proper utilization and conservation of the vanishing fur-seal and sea-otter herds and other natural fishery resources of the Pacific Ocean."

It was pointed out in the resolution that these fur-bearing mammals, as well as whales, salmon and halibut, formerly constituted "more than $100,000,000 worth of annual products." Dr. David Starr Jordan
said that it was conservatively estimated
that these resources, when rehabilitated,
would yield to the world more than $500,000,000 annually. He said that the 1911 treaty found the fur-seal industry com-mercially ruined, and that it increased production to more than $1,500,000 a year.

Dr. Jordan was not content with the conservation of seals in northern waters. He urged that steps be taken to preserve the Antarctic rookeries, which he said could be made to yield $20,000,000 or $30,000,000 a year where now there is a "fostery and senseless waste." The Antarctic seals, he said, are found in the waters around the continent of Antarctica, and are said to be more abundant than the northern seals,
and their fur is reputed to be even more valuable. These seals live on the islands
off Chile, Patagonia, Uruguay, the Falklands and elsewhere in the south.

Dr. Barton W. Evermann, director of the California Academy of Sciences, who took part in bringing about the treaty of 1911, assisted Dr. Jordan in presenting the subject to the conference at Honolulu. Dr.

Who Would Think the German War Eagle
Could Change to a Dove of Peace?

(Protected by George Matthew Adams)

Just About It

James J. Montague

Evermann said that the 1911 treaty had caused the American herd to increase from 127,000 to more than 700,000, with a kill on land of 20,000 a year. Under the present agreement only the superfluous males may be killed, and then only by the country owning the land on which the particular species breeds. No seals may be killed in the open sea. Each country forbids the importation into its territory of skins
taken illegally.

Unless Russia raises some objection, because of her not being "properly recognized" by this country or England in other
affairs, the treaty doubtless will be renewed, as it certainly should be in the interest of the conservation of the resources
of an important industry.

THE NEXT GREAT TREK

"Humanity is up against a brand new thing. It is ready for its next great trek, its new adventure in kindness. . . . For 2000 years, ever since the world's Greatest Citizen transmuted human kindness on the cross, we have been working toward this greatest of treks."

Thus William Allen White, writer and editor, summed up the Pacific relations problem to the San Francisco Central League of Women Voters upon his return from Honolulu.

He said there has been a series of big treks, one of the biggest being that into world commerce. He intimated that kind-liness, not commerce, must deal with our Pacific relations. He did not even mention guns—they seem to have fallen so significantly in defense.

Guns have been tried and, regardless of the fact that they can shoot almost 100 miles, they seem to have fallen short. They may be able to shoot from the Marne into Paris; but they cannot puncture prejudice
and suspicion.

Commerce came with its purchasing power; but despite the fact that every man is said to have his price and that money talks,
it does not seem to be able to buy good will and peace. Most of our wars seem to have been commercial wars.

It is a big job to live; but it seems to be a bigger job to live together. Mr.
White says, "The shoe-button eyes of the men of darker races are looking into our bluer eyes" with suspicion.

"We have given him the same weapons,"
Are we able to give him our ideals? It takes tall men to overlook. The world is freezing to death for kindness. Hate is the heresy of heretics!

SEEKING STARS

Seattle announces a big, brand new tel-
lescope with a mirror 120 inches in diameter. It is claimed to be the largest in the world.

The Mt. Wilson telescope has a 100-inch speculum and brings into the range of vision $20,000,000 stars. The Seattle institution will furnish 400,000,000.

This greatly relieves the stringency of stars. Just how we have managed to squeeze along on but $20,000,000 in beyond comprehension. But now that we are to have $400,000,000 more we can breathe more easily.

The world will no longer feel the lack of stars. Poets and orators will now have a resort for constant consumption. Lovers
will be able to navigate the mazes of affection with ease and success. There will now be enough stars of destiny to go around
among the Napoleons of the race.

However, one thing greatly puzzles us:
How will they be able to see so many new stars in Seattle, even if they have a telescope of size? They cannot even see the sun and moon much of the time, for rain or mist. If you cannot look at them, what is the use of having 400,000,000 stars? The

See Who Gets Postcard

HOLLYWOOD, July 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:]
was when the peddler was a picturesque institution. The ure has gone down the back entry of time. In its place is the post—the agent, the solicitor and their kin. On my front door sign that it seems to me makes clear that the agent is pergrata. No day passes but the bell rings and I have the opportunity buy real estate, a flock of trees, several insurance premiums and
thing from needles and pins to a new chimney.

New cleaning establishments,
new mattresses and roofing concerns,
new laundries crave my patronage.
Keen competition exists between vacuum-cleaner agencies to see that the vacuum cleaner I do not possess is kept in order. Is my house in condition? Does my furniture look suit me? Can I tune in to Tulsa, Okla., with the radio I have never had and don't want?

I never knew that a car had so many parts until the various agents specializing on every conceivable organ of a machine have desired to make it safe for democracy. There is also the phony faced youth who wants my subscription to magazines so that he can pursue a college career. I am yet to see one of these whose face proves to me that he could make
the grade of a high school.

Office buildings do not tolerate the agent. Why should the real-estate district be invaded? The householder is giving away something she can never get again and that is time. Each of us has our laundry, our service station, our cleaning establishment that we patronize. If there is anything we don't possess and desperately want
we know how to go about and get
it. The classified portion of the directory is luminous, so are the advertising portions of a newspaper,
so is the advice of our friends.

I cannot figure out how anyone
with the slightest appreciation of the other fellow's time can intrude
himself when he is obviously an annoyance. Yet this sign of mine keeps away about 1 per cent of
people to whom I have never had an introduction. This is supposed to be an age of progress and just
why we are carrying along a senseless survival of an obsolete type is one of life's mysteries.

Nothing Left But People

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—[To
the Editor of The Times:] I wonder why the honored people of the world flock to Europe. A few years ago I knew a plenty who came to California, but now they go elsewhere to seek a change
from brick and mortar and forget and rest.

We have allowed our beautiful
magnolias, pepper trees and palms,
petunias, fuchsias and geraniums,
which grew about wild to be slaughtered down and now the sour-
tempered and dyspeptic would
clear the air and sky of our songsters. Why are we having a pretty soon? Nothing but people,
and you can find them everywhere.
AGNES M. FEARIE.

Grandfather's Clock

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—[To
the Editor of The Times:] In today's Times you state that the English dated clocks were made in 1681.

There has been in my family
since about 1812 a grandfather's clock and on the back of the wheels is stamped into the metal
"Osborne's manufactory, Birmingham, 1683."

It is keeping good time today.
I have also seen another clock
having a very strong resemblance
to the one of which I speak and the owner told me that it is stamped
A.D. 1685.

Voices of the Night

VENTURA, July 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] "It came as a big surprise" to me that anyone
should look upon the mocking bird
and its variety of joyous notes as an unmitigated nuisance. But never knowing of protest against the godly moaning and groaning of the saxophone. That is getting to be a most unbearable peace destruc-
tor. The tin-pot piano and the lute that congregates nightly under the beacon lights and keep their
jazz stuff till 12 o'clock and later,
to say nothing about parking
under your windows, etc., of car-
owned by people that pull out at midnight honking and making all manner of noise, keeping those who want rest and sleep awake.

Texts Compared

LA JOLLA, July 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If you will compare the address of Mr. Bryan,
as given in Wednesday's Times,
with "The Words of Darwin" I sent you for publication, you may assume that Mr. Bryan was not familiar with Mr. Darwin's works;
for I would not say that he was knowingly unfair toward Mr. Darwin in his characterization of him in his quotations of what Mr. Darwin wrote as to origin of species
and his religious opinions.

AN ENVOY OF PEACE

Our new Minister to China, John Van A. MacMurray, has paused at Tokio on the way, and Japanese officials and the press have amiable things to say of him, though he is known in the Orient as a friend of China. Good will toward one of these countries is entirely compatible with the best of feeling to the other. In fact, the embassy accredited to one of them can best serve America in the Far East by doing all he can to promote amity
between them. And Mr. MacMur-ray is excellently qualified by long training and social acquaintance to represent us in a land whose present turbulence does not reflect its real sentiment for the United States. Typical Chinese with hooded and elaborate artificial incenseburners. They will welcome an envoy whose influence is exerted to settle the dispute of factions.—

HOW Kenneth Doe Found a Room Near His Work—

Arriving on a noon train, and scheduled to appear on the job as the new foreman in the morning, Kenneth Doe had only a comparatively short time in which to find a satisfactory room.

Until things got going," he planned to spend a few extra hours each day at the shops. Naturally he wanted to live close by.

Advised that Times Rentals were grouped "by districts," he immediately consulted this big list of "Rooms" and by three o'clock that afternoon had found the one he wanted—only three blocks from his work.

Temporary track adjoining the bridge across the Los Angeles River at Macy street was put in place by the Los Angeles Railway yesterday, reducing the distance which passengers of the Brooklyn Avenue line have to walk in changing cars during construction of the viaduct at that point. Passengers are carried close to the tracks of the temporary bridge.

"DREAM BABY" IN BIGAMY BATTLE

"Kissless Marriage" Told by Wife Before Officers

Admits "Child" Fictitious on Facing First Mate

Marriage Believed Jest, She Says; Goes to Jail

A "joke" wedding, a "dream baby" and a "kissless marriage" were the strange elements which led to the arrest yesterday of pretty Mrs. Eugene R. Bonham, 25 years of age, a former clock model, on bigamy charges filed against her by Dep. Dist. Atty. Ryan. The weird story of the wedding entered into as a jest and of the asserted "dream baby" which resulted from the "kissless marriage" was pieced together when Mrs. Bonham, weeping hysterically, faced her two asserted husbands, Alvin A. Johnstone, a local contractor, and Floyd Bonham, an automobile accessories salesman with whom the woman has been living and whom she declares to be the only man she has ever loved.

A pathetic renewal of love vows between Mrs. Bonham and the accessories salesman, during which both broke into tears, preceded the questioning by Mr. Ryan and the development of the full story.

TELLS STRANGE STORY

The complaint against the woman was signed by Johnstone. He declared that Eugene R. Bonham, at that time known under the name of Betty Brooks, on October 14, 1922, they never lived together, he stated. She objected to living any other place but Los Angeles, he said, while he was forced to take up his residence in smaller towns adjacent to the city because of his work. They never spent a day together, he declared. Some time after their marriage,

HOME SPLIT BY BROTHER, WIFE AVERS

Long Beach Woman Sues Wealthy Kin of Husband for $100,000

Charging her reputed wealthy brother with alienating the affections of her husband, Mrs. Mary J. Silvia, daughter of Mrs. Jane D. Abbott of Long Beach, yesterday brought suit for $100,000 damages in Superior Court against H. D. Brown.

The husband in the case is Thomas S. Silvia, with whom Mrs. Silvia said she had been living happily prior to last January, at which time Silvia was asserted to have deserted her at the instigation of Brown.

Mrs. Silvia traced the source of her asserted domestic difficulties back to March, 1921. In this month, according to her complaint, Brown removed several trunks containing imported whisky and champagne from a downtown hotel in which he had been living to Mrs. Silvia's home at 2644 Budlong avenue, Mrs. Silvia stated she protested this asserted action on the part of Brown as she feared she would get into trouble with the prohibition authorities. When she asked Brown to remove the liquor from the house, she continued, Brown became abusive toward her and told Silvia to leave her, adding that if Silvia did not do so, he, Brown, would discharge Silvia from his position.

Mrs. Silvia also charged her brother with slandering her character about her reviled her character and once commanded Silvia not to answer letters she sent her husband while she was in Lake City.

On several occasions, according to the complaint, Brown threatened to discharge Silvia, who was in his employ, unless Silvia accepted the alleged alternative of deserting his wife.

The complaint was prepared by Attorney Paul Shapiro.

Workmen Are Periled When Wall Caves in

One workman was slightly injured and several others narrowly escaped being buried alive when a cave-in at an excavation for a building at 1215 Hollywood Boulevard caused several tons of dirt to be released. Four men were in the excavation when the slide came.

The injured workman is Manuel Hernandez, 40 years of age, of 665 Bolano avenue. He was treated at the Perry, Dickley & Co. Hospital for bruises.

The fire department responded, but its services were not needed.

President of United Artists Comes for Conference with Schenck

Hiram Abrams, president of United Artists, is in Los Angeles to confer with officials of the organization here about the distribution of the United Artists pictures for the coming year.

There will be fifteen pictures for release between September, 1925 and September, 1926, Mr. Abrams said. The increase over the usual number handled is responsible for his trip to the Coast to confer with Joseph M. Schenck and other members of United Artists, he stated.

Another reason for his trip, Mr. Abrams said, is the necessity of making arrangements for the establishment of foreign offices of the organization.

The film head will be here about a week.

Recital Marks Dedication of Bugbee Organ

The George Franklin Bugbee memorial pipe organ in the new Episcopal Mission of the Redeemer, Fifth and Indiana streets, was formally dedicated last night by a recital given by Rev. Arnold G. H. Bode, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Anaheim. Mr. Bode was assisted by Miss Tilda Rohr, contralto, and the church choir.

The organ is the gift of an anonymous donor in memory of Rev. George Franklin Bugbee, pastor of old St. Paul's Episcopal Church here from June, 1890, until June 16, 1923, when he died. His son, Rev. Franklin Bugbee, is pastor of the Mission of the Redeemer, where the new organ is installed.

Bishop Joseph H. Johnson of the Los Angeles diocese presented the service of dedication. Mr. Bode formerly was professor of music at the University of Wyoming.

Mounting for Fort Rifle to be Begun Soon

Construction of a forty-two-foot concrete turn-table on the lower reservation at Fort MacArthur on which will be mounted the huge 14-inch railway rifle recently allotted to this defense unit will be started as soon as surveys and plans made by Maj. H. A. Finch, district engineer for the United States Board of Army Engineers, are approved at Washington, Md. Lincoln B. Chambers, in command of the harbor post, announced yesterday. Additional trackage from either the Southern Pacific or Pacific Electric Railroad lines will be necessary to take the latest of modern rifles into the reservation.

Date on which the gun will be shipped from Aberdeen, Md., has not been fixed. Maj. Chambers stated, because three alternatives for the location of the huge rifle have been studied and no choice made.

Hawaiian Love Pact Ended by Damage Action

An Hawaiian romance in which Mary Burger participated did not end in the approved popular-song fashion, according to a suit for $10,000 damages Miss Burger filed in Superior Court yesterday against W. H. Huseman, asserted to have been the other party to an asserted heart contract in the land of ukuleles and hula maids.

Dreams of marital happiness with Huseman faded last June for Miss Burger, according to her complaint, which stated that he broke his promise by marrying Eliza Shaffer. Her complaint was prepared by Attorney Phil S. Gibson.

WOMAN INJURED AS TRAFFIC SIGN IGNORED

Margaret Cotton, 31 years of age of 673 Arizona street, yesterday tried to cross against a traffic signal at Second street and Broadway, and was knocked down by a car, Traffic Officer Bledsoe reported. The car was driven by Eugene Langlois, a city employee. Miss Cotton was treated for bruises at Receiving Hospital.

STATE CLOSES IN PICKFORD TRIAL

Defense Ready to Launch Its Case This Morning

Lack of Overt Kidnaping Act to be Contention

Arguments Due Today When Dismissal Comes Up

The State rested its case late yesterday in the prosecution of C. E. Stevens, C. A. Holcomb and J. W. Wood for alleged conspiracy to kidnap Mary Pickford, and Public Defender Aggeler and Attorney Hahn, for the defense, at once entered a motion to dismiss the charges against the accused men on the grounds that "the evidence did not support the allegations contained in the indictment or prove that an overt act had been committed."

The hour was late when the defense motion was made and Public Defender Aggeler asked Judge McLaughlin to adjourn court until this morning before hearing arguments in support of the motion, which, he said, would take two hours to present and could be adequately presented if they were uninterrupted. Judge McLaughlin, after some consideration, granted the request.

DEFENSE TO FIGHT
The court session this morning, therefore, perhaps will see the most strenuous efforts yet put forth on the part of the defense, and the bitterness that has marked the trial from its inception is expected to reach its peak.

One of the recognized bulwarks of the defense is their contention that no "overt act" actually was committed. Section 184 of the Criminal Code of California states, when defining an overt act, that "no arrestment amounts to a conspiracy unless some act besides such arrestment be done within this state to affect the object thereof."

The defense will attempt to prove that the defendants, while they may have discussed the kidnaping, committed no overt act within the limits of the law's definition.

Before the State rested its case, the so-called confessions made by Stevens, Holcomb and Wood to the police after they were arrested, were read to the jury. Briefly, they told how the defendants had met and discussed kidnaping Mary Pickford, with the intention of holding her for $500,000 ransom.

Early in the trial the admission of these statements or confessions as evidence caused a spirited battle between defense and prosecution, the defense declaring that they were obtained after the police had used third degree methods in obtaining them.

TWO ON STAND
Detective Harry Raymond, one of the officers who arrested the defendants, was cross-examined on the witness stand yesterday by Defense Attorney Hahn. Only one other witness was put on the stand during yesterday's session, he giving his name as J. T. Bedell, manager of the Hotel Hayward.

Bedell was the first witness called by the defense after the State closed. He testified that he had rented two rooms to the police at the request of former Detective Captain George Homer Bedell, who, at times were occupied by Louis Geck, asserted police informer, and Detective Raymond. Bedell's testimony was taken yesterday.

The defense attorneys stated, because the witness had been leaving town and they considered his statements would be important later in the case.

Wood, Holcomb and Stevens, it is known, discussed the Pickford plot in the Hotel Hayward, and chose familiar with the case. Bedell was attempting to lay a foundation to attack the method used by the police in entrapping the alleged kidnaping plotters.

Defense Attorney Hahn appeared in court yesterday with a body guard and declared that he feared bodily harm as the result of threats made against him by persons interested in the case. He confided his fears to Judge McLaughlin, who, he declared, had taken some steps to prevent the attorney coming to any physical harm.

MORE KNIGHTS REACH CITY

Eastern Delegates to Templar Convention in North Are Entertained on Way Home

About 1000 more crusaders arrived yesterday in Los Angeles and as many more are expected today on their way home from the annual Knights Templar conclave at Seattle. Among those yesterday was Jim Irwin of Cleveland, O., whose communication eccentricities have made him subject of national magazine articles.

Make a remark or ask a question in an attempt to break the conversation ice with Irwin and he does not say a word but hands out a card produced from the proper one of numerous pockets located all around over his topography. The card may say anything from "Chase me girls, I'm different from the rest" or it may say, "I don't know what you're selling but I'll take two boxes" but it will be somewhat apropos of the occasion.

OTHERS DUE TODAY
Sir Knights who arrived yesterday were members of the Washington (D. C.) and Ohio Grand Commanderies and the Chicago (Humboldt) and Cleveland (Holy-Rock) commanderies. Today special trains will bring the New York, Oak Park (Ill.) and two Columbus (O.) commanderies.

For the most part the Sir Knights looked after themselves while here although the Chamber of Commerce kept a committee waiting all day in the headquarters ready to register the visitors, hand out souvenirs and send them off on a tour of studies and the beaches as guests of the city. It sent one party over the entertainment route. The crusaders arrived in their own special trains and operated independently from them for the most part.

PACIFIC-BRAZIL TRADE OUTLINED

Visitor Sees Handicap in Lack of Carriers

Asserts Only One Line Runs to East Coast Side

Exporters Urged to Push Dry Fruits and Sardines

Development of Pacific Coast commercial relations with Brazil and the east coast of South America is retarded by the lack of steamship facilities and the proper exploitation of products, M. A. Cremer, United States Trade Commissioner at Rio Janeiro, said yesterday during a brief visit to the local Chamber of Commerce before proceeding to San Francisco and Washington. Mr. Cremer, who has been commissioner in the South American city for three years is en route to Washington on a short leave of absence.

Only one steamship line at present runs between the coast of the east coast of South America, the Pacific-Antarctic-Brasil Steamship Company, he said, and this line, carrying lumber for the Argentine, does not stop at Brazil. The trade is being carried by cargo for that place. The journey back to the Pacific Coast, however, is being carried by a more lucrative in the coffee export trade, Los Angeles receiving last year approximately $1,000,000 worth of Brazilian coffee.

URGES BRAZIL TRADE
"As I see it at present, the Pacific Coast should first concentrate on stimulating interest in the South American field, especially in Brazil where the resources are practically unlimited," Mr. Cremer declared. Two products the Pacific Coast could push are sardines and dried fruits for which there is a great demand in Brazil.

Canned fruits on the other hand are high in price and have not been successful. If the interest could be stimulated, a demand for products would follow and steamship facilities would then shape themselves accordingly."

The United States, Mr. Cremer said, led all other nations last year in exporting products to Brazil, its trade totaling $30,000,000. Great Britain was second, while Argentina ranked above Germany.

America, he said, gains the biggest trade in oil products, iron and steel and in the standardized output which has been unequalled by other nations, such as typewriters, cash registers, radio sets, automobile accessories, rubber tires and electrical goods.

DEVELOPMENT TOLD
Brazilians are not adverse to the entry of American capital and property which must be coming during their industrialization, Mr. Cremer said. Already they are manufacturing shoes and furniture and the only thing that prevents a big steel business in the country is the lack of good coke and iron deposits there are rated among the largest in the world and are already being utilized.

Rio De Janeiro, he said, has a population of 1,500,000 people within a radius of 500 miles from there 15,000,000 people live. Sao Paulo, he said, has a population of 600,000 people and is already called the "Chicago of South America," due to its booming industries and shipping.

Realizing the enormous facilities they have in their own country, Brazilians are rapidly becoming industrialized, Mr. Cremer said. Already they are manufacturing shoes and furniture and the only thing that prevents a big steel business in the country is the lack of good coke and iron deposits there are rated among the largest in the world and are already being utilized.
